COMPLAINT FOR TRADEMARK INFRINGEMENT AND UNFAIR COMPETITION

Plaintiff Hainan Changyuan Technology Co., Ltd. hereby alleges as follows against Defendants set forth in Schedule A for the Partnerships and Unincorporated Associations (collectively “Defendants”).

Introduction

1. This is a civil action for federal trademark infringement to combat e-commerce store operators who trade upon Plaintiff’s reputation and goodwill by making, using, offering for sale, selling and/or importing into the United States for subsequent sale products that create confusion for official products that use the JROD trademarks, which are covered by U.S. Trademark Registration No. 7,434,077 (“the JROD Trademark”).
2. The JROD Trademark registration is valid and in full force and effect. A true copy of the federal trademark registration certificates for the JROD Trademark is attached at Exhibit A.

3. The Plaintiff has not granted a license or any other form of permission to Defendants with respect to the patent design.

4. The Defendants are individuals and business entities who, upon information and belief, reside in the People's Republic of China or other foreign and domestic jurisdictions. Defendants conduct business throughout the United States, including within the State of Illinois and this Judicial District, through the operation of fully interactive, commercial online marketplaces operating under the Defendants Internet Stores. Each Defendant targets the United States, including Illinois, and has offered to sell, and on information and belief, has sold and continues to sell the same Infringing Product to consumers within the United States, including the State of Illinois.

5. On information and belief, Defendants regularly create new online marketplace accounts on various platforms using the identities listed in Schedule A (SEALED) to the Complaint, as well as other unknown fictitious names and addresses. Such Defendant Internet Store registration patterns are one of many common tactics used by the Defendants to conceal their identities, the full scope and interworking of their operation, and to avoid being shut down.

6. Even though Defendants operate under multiple fictitious names, there are numerous similarities among the Defendant Internet Stores. In a specific instance, each Defendant applies the JROD Trademark to pressure washer products. This in contrast to the JROD Trademark as being registered for multiple different types of products. The Defendant Internet Stores include other notable common features, including the same type of product images, in this case 4 parallel nozzles, accepted payment methods, checkout methods, meta data, illegitimate SEO tactics.

7. The Defendants sharing unique identifiers, for example application of the JROD Trademark to pressure washer products, establishes a logical relationship between the Defendants and establishes prima facie that Defendants illicit and infringing operations arise out of the same series of occurrences. Exhibit B (SEALED) shows the include, online marketplaces for each Defendant listed on the Schedule A. As shown, each defendant uses the mark JROD in conjunction with pressure washers.

8. Plaintiff is forced to file this action to combat Defendants' counterfeiting of Plaintiff's federally registered JROD Trademark, as well as to protect unknowing consumers from purchasing Counterfeit Products over the Internet.

9. This Court has personal jurisdiction over each Defendant, in that each Defendant conducts significant business in Illinois and in this Judicial District, and the acts and events giving rise to this lawsuit of which each Defendant stands were undertaken in Illinois and in this Judicial District.

Jurisdiction and Venue

10. This Court has original subject matter jurisdiction over the trademark infringement and false designation or origin claims pursuant to the provisions of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. §1051 et seq., 28 U.S.C. §1338(a)-(b), and 28 U.S.C. § 1331.

11. This Court has jurisdiction over the deceptive trade practices claim in this action that arise under the laws of the State of Illinois pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367(a) because the state law claims are so related to the federal claims that they form part of the same case or controversy and derive from a common nucleus of operative facts.

12. This Court has personal jurisdiction over each Defendant, in that, upon information and belief, Defendants regularly conduct, transact and/or solicit business in Illinois and in this Judicial District, and/or derive substantial revenue from business transactions in Illinois and in this Judicial District and/or otherwise avail themselves of the privileges and protections of the laws of the State of Illinois such that this Court's assertion of jurisdiction over Defendants does not offend traditional notions of fair play and due process, and/or Defendants' illegal counterfeiting and infringing actions caused injury to Plaintiff in Illinois and in this Judicial District such that Defendants should reasonably expect such actions to have consequences in Illinois and this judicial District.

13. According to the Amazon store owner's information, as showed on Amazon websites, parts of the Defendants can be identified via Chinese official company registration system. They are registered companies and actual owners of those companies located in China. Most of these defendant companies only have 1 or 2 employees, and these employees are also the actual owners of the Defendant companies.

14. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b)(2) and 1400, because Defendants have committed acts of trademark infringement in this Judicial District, and do substantial business in this Judicial District.
